

Dr Sophia Zadelis Radiologist

MBBS (HONS), FRANZCR

Dr Zadelis graduated from the University of New South Wales in 1991 and has taken a keen interest in breast disease diagnosis since graduation.

Initially Sophia trained as a breast physician at Sydney Breast Clinic and then went on to undertake radiology training at Royal North Shore Hospital, gaining fellowship of the College of Radiologists (RANZCR) in 2000.

Sophia sub-specialised in breast imaging with a fellowship at Sydney Breast Clinic in 2000 and has since been a consultant to the clinic.

She is skilled in all aspects of breast imaging interpretation and multidisciplinary diagnosis.

Sophia has presented at professional meetings and has been involved in radiologist breast imaging training. She has held appointments to BreastScreen NSW and was Acting Designated Radiologist for the Central and Eastern service from 2002-2004.