

Lynda Slade Senior Sonographer

Associate Diploma (Nuclear Medicine),
Diploma of Medical Ultrasound (General Ultrasound),
Endorsement Testamur (Ultrasound)

Lynda Slade is a senior sonographer and is one of the staff responsible for training and mentoring new sonographers at Sydney Breast Clinic.

She is recognised as an Accredited Sonographer with the Australian Sonographer Accreditation Registry.

Lynda has worked at Sydney Breast Clinic since 2001, and previously worked as a general sonographer and nuclear medicine technologist at Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, Liverpool Hospital and Lidcombe/Bankstown Hospital.

She has presented at international ultrasound conferences, published peer reviewed articles for the ultrasound community, and has a special interest in ultrasound techniques for patients with breast implants.